

UMB Recognized as Best Employer in Europe by Great Place to Work

IT service provider UMB has been named the best employer in Europe by 'Great Place to Work' in the category of companies employing between 50 and 499 people. This is the first time that a Swiss company has topped the list of Europe's best 50 companies. However, UMB has already been recognized by workplace culture experts in the past, having been named the best Swiss employer in its category by Great Place to Work five times. Says Martin Gartmann, CEO of UMB: «It all started with a clear vision of becoming the best employer in Europe. Now we have achieved this goal, and our team is extremely proud of it. We will do everything in our power to continue to be the first address for ambitious IT talents in the future.»

UMB corporate culture

At UMB, corporate culture has always been a significant factor in the company's development. This is reflected in the fact that colleagues are taken seriously and involved in decisions at all times. Thus, everyone at UMB can get involved in the strategy process. In addition, UMB pursues an open information policy. Information about figures, strategies, or personnel changes is provided openly and truthfully on a regular basis - negative topics are also communicated on an equal basis. Moreover, UMB not only maintains generous training funds, but also its own security fund, which provides financial support for colleagues in emergency situations. This fund has already been called upon several times in recent years.

The Great Place to Work Trust Model™

Great Place to Work uses a rigorous, data-driven model to quantify employee experience, the Great Place to Work Trust Model™. Since 1992, this trust model has been used to survey more than 100 million employees around the world, using these deep insights to define what makes a great workplace: namely trust. Employees of a great workplace trust the people they work for, take pride in their work, and enjoy working with them.
