An experienced CIO who can meet your business needs, no matter how long or intense the project - that is CIO as a service from UMB. Because nothing works without IT anymore. Regardless of your company's size or line of business, IT supports your business model, increases your efficiency, and gives you a competitive edge over your rivals. Our CIOs do not just fill gaps, they bring fresh ideas to your business. They are innovators and know no taboos when it comes to an iconic business move...

UMB Business Advisor: "No taboos when it comes to an iconic business move."

It is simply no longer possible to imagine a company without IT. The Chief Information Officer (CIO) or Head of IT is a key position that provides the business with the right resources. This person brings know-how, experience, and best Practices for the implementation of business processes - and thus contributes significantly to business success. He or she ensures stable, secure, and business-oriented IT operations.

A vacancy as an opportunity for change

Our experienced CIOs are able to step in at short notice, take on responsibility immediately and thus fill gaps. They do this for a short time and in a supporting capacity until the position is filled again internally, or they do it over a longer period of time. Our CIOs give you room for strategic work, supporting or leading a reorganization, and can further develop your IT strategy. They can also act as coaches to support the existing CIO or Head of IT on a selective basis with their outside perspective and know-how. Look at your vacancy as an opportunity for change! Our CIOs have practical experience, bring many ideas from other projects and mandates, find their way around in any environment and can initialize changes. Put us to the test now.

Your advantages

- Precisely as much temporary support in IT management as needed (strategy or operations)
- More time and focus for your core processes and main business
- Support tailored to your business strategy and business processes
- On-demand access to the specialized knowledge of 700 experts on an as-you-go basis
- More time and professional support to find the right internal CIO for you
- Valuable input for innovation processes and a professional view from the outside
