

Data Protection, Governance & Compliance: We Will Safely Guide You Through the Paragraphs.

Requirements in the area of governance, risk and compliance are permanently changing; the burden on companies is increasing. With UMB, you will remain compliant in the future, because we are specialists in fields such as internal control systems, cyber resilience or data protection. We are familiar with the new Swiss data protection law (refDSG), the European data protection regulation (DSGVO) or recognized standards such as ISO 27001/002 or NIST.

Do you know the very latest data protection, governance, and compliance requirements? We will analyze your business processes and security measures and work closely with you to ensure that legal requirements are consistently adhered to and correctly implemented.

We are proficient in various disciplines

Digitization and data protection require a well-coordinated interplay of complementary disciplines. We will support you in all aspects - from questions around data protection requirements, analysis, strategy definition and conception to sensitizing your employees and the implementation of data protection measures.

The data protection life cycle outlined above describes the processes for protecting data. This includes activities such as identifying the relevant data, determining its use, implementing appropriate security and protection measures, and regularly reviewing and updating them.
